Service Availability

63. OceanWise intends that its Services shall be available 24 hours per day, seven days per week. It is possible that on occasions the Services may be unavailable for short periods of time to permit maintenance or development activities to take place. OceanWise intends that any period of unavailability is kept to a minimum.
64. The Services are monitored using an automated alert system 24 hours per day, seven days per week and, as a consequence, OceanWise endeavours to pre-empt or, if necessary, resolve any interruptions in the Services as soon as practicable.
65. OceanWise will notify You of any planned maintenance activities at least 24 hours prior to when the maintenance is scheduled to take place. OceanWise will also notify You of any unplanned disruption in Services as soon as practicable. Notification will include a reason for the disruption and an estimation of when normal service will be resumed. Notices will be updated periodically as circumstances change. Notification will include postings to the Website and the sending of emails to registered and Authorised Users.

Technical Support

66. In the case of disruption to the Services or other technical difficulties You must make all reasonable efforts to investigate and diagnose problems e.g. local network issues before contacting OceanWise.
67. If You still need technical help, You should submit a support request by sending an email to support@oceanwise.eu or by calling OceanWise on +44 1420 768262. This line is manned during UK Office Hours only. Please include as much information as possible, including details of all alerts displayed on the Website.

You will be told the reason for this and a plan to resolve the problem prepared and communicated to You.
69. OceanWise will investigate, to the extent possible remotely, the reason why data is not being received by Port-Log. The depth of remote support that can be provided depends on whether OceanWise is able to connect to the data logger/modem incorporated into the monitoring station and/or whether the monitoring station is on a telecommunications network which OceanWise is able to access. For software installations then OceanWise will also require access to the Port-Log server.
70. The above conditions are met in the case where OceanWise has provided its Smart Telemetry Unit, the ip.buffer, and/or the outstation on the OceanWise M2M VPN or the OceanWise supplied SIM can be activated, and/or where OceanWise is able to access the Port-Log server over a VPN, RDC, TeamViewer or similar.
71. Where the above conditions are not met in full or in part, or in cases where OceanWise is not providing maintenance or has concerns over the maintenance status of the sensor network then remote support may not be possible or additional charges may be applied.
72. These Terms and Conditions do not oblige OceanWise to monitor or attempt to resolve issues involving telemetry or sensor equipment or data communications, nor provide cover or respond to support requests outside UK office hours, unless this is specifically included in a higher-level Service

Level Agreement or You agree to pay for this prior to any work being undertaken. Please contact OceanWise or an OceanWise Licensed Partner for details of how to set up a Service Level Agreement and our pricing for this and ad hoc work.

The remainder of this Agreement will be binding on the parties.
79. Notices: Any notice given under these Terms and Conditions by either party to the other must be in writing by email and will be deemed to have been given on transmission. Notices to OceanWise must be sent to support@oceanwise.eu or to any other email address notified by email to You on the Website. Notices to You will be sent to the email address which You provided when setting up Your access to the Services.
